

Portrait of Lara by Gary Hume, 2010.

Lara Stone at the CFDA Fashion Awards in June 2010.

A beautiful LIFE

Model-of-the-moment Lara Stone talks Prada, perfume and paintings

"Photographer Steven Meisel shot the Prada Infusion d'Iris campaign. He's such a genius — absolutely amazing. He has this great vision and knows exactly what he wants and how to get it. Plus he always makes you look beautiful."

"I find Prada Infusion d'Iris to be charming. I love that it smells summery and fresh, yet it's quite earthy and very engaging on my skin."

"When it comes to relaxing, there's nothing better than a nice lazy evening on the sofa with my husband, with a nice cup of tea and some chocolate fingers."

"When I'm in London, I enjoy doing Pilates once or twice a week. Mostly, I just work on my posture."

"Sometimes I miss my family, who are in Holland. It would be nice to be able to pop in for a coffee or something ... However, I do love living in London."

"It's really important for me to have enough time to see my husband and friends. I know that sounds weird, but it's hard to actually have a life in this job."

"My favourite show to walk in was Prada A/W 10-11 — it was such a beautiful, sexy and feminine collection."

"My ultimate luxury is sleep. I'm convinced sleeping is the healthiest thing you can possibly do, but I mainly say that to justify my naps."

"We just bought an amazing painting by Gary Hume; it's my new favourite artwork. It's very special."

Prada d'Infusion d'Iris eau de toilette, $110, (02) 9663 4277.

Walking for Prada A/W 10-11.

Stone with husband David Walliams.

Limoges teacup and saucer set, $118.50, from T2, www.t2tea.com.

adidas by Stella McCartney yoga mat, $120, 1800 801 891.

GETTY IMAGES; GARY HUME ARTWORK; STEPHEN WHITE/COURTESY OF MAJUTE CURE; RINWAY; DON ASHBY; INTERVIEW BY NOELLE FAULKNER